

Sonic Frontiers

Clarinet & Electronics

"Sonic Frontiers" invites you on a journey into uncharted territory, where the rich sound of the clarinet meets the transformative power of electronics. This programme challenges traditional notions of chamber music, blending acoustic instruments with innovative electronic textures to create something entirely new. Expect to venture beyond the familiar as the music unfolds, taking you through diverse landscapes of sound—moments of delicate beauty, pulsating energy, and immersive atmospheres. With works ranging from introspective minimalism to dynamic, genre-defying compositions, this programme explores the boundaries of music itself, pushing you to hear familiar sounds in a completely fresh way. It's an adventure for the ears, one that blends tradition and technology, familiar and unknown, into a captivating experience where the clarinet becomes both voice and explorer in a bold, modern sound world.

Includes repertoire such as

Alex Groves- Single Form

Jukka Tiensuu- Plus II

Nils Frahm- Says

Zoe Martlew- Shift, Trip

Massive Attack- Angel

Mason Bates- Stereo is King

Nitin Sawhney- Days R Gone

Philip Glass- Études (selection)

Rebecca Dale- There Will Come, Night Seasons
